Houselisting Operation is an essential prerequisite to every decadal Census in India. In this phase, all houses and structures used for residence or non-residence purposes are enumerated to ensure complete coverage during Population Enumeration phase. This exercise is equally gigantic and expensive. Some very important information related to housing stock and condition, household amenities and assets possessed by households are collected which are very significant for futuristic planning and policy decisions. Based on this information, vital findings with regard to housing conditions classified by good, liveable, dilapidated and also classified by uses; both residential and non-residential like shops, hotels, schools, hospitals, places of worship, etc. are derived.

In addition to this, data on amenities available to households such as number of dwelling rooms, drinking water from different sources, availability of toilets, drainage, electricity, kitchen and fuel used for cooking is also collected. Apart from housing condition and amenities available to households, information is also gathered regarding assets possessed by households, such as bicycles, scooter/motorcycle/moped, car/jeep/van, radio, television, computers with or without Internet facilities, telephone/mobiles and households availing banking services. All these items reflect growth in infrastructure and impact of development programmes on general prosperity of people over the decade.

Some very interesting facts are revealed through Census data. It is observed that the population of Madhya Pradesh exceeds the population of France, United Kingdom and Italy. But Ironically, only 28.8 percent households use toilet facility but 32.1 percent households have television and 46.0 percent households have telephone/mobile that indicates the skewed priorities of people. There has been absolute growth in households having electricity for lighting by 31.4 percent over the decade comprising of nearly 24 lakhs households but despite this the percentage share of electricity for lighting as per houselisting conducted in May-June 2010 has declined from 70.0 percent in 2001 to 67.1 percent in 2011. Likewise, there has been 83.1 percent growth in households using LPG since 2001 but the percentage share has increased to only 18.2 as against 13.6 in 2001. However use of telephone/mobile has shown an increase of 920.5 percent since 2001 marking a revolution in communication. Similarly, there has been 113.6 percent growth in households having scooter/motor cycle/moped and 106.0 percent growth in car/jeep/van. Despite such high growth rates the percentage share of households with scooter/motor cycle/moped is 18.8 and for car/jeep/van is 2.7 percent.

This report attempts to present the analysis of the Houselisting data (excluding institutional households) with charts, diagrams and thematic maps so as to understand the findings in an easier way by data users and planners. Analysis on EAG states, neighbouring states, Divisions of state, ranking of districts and decadal growth or decline is also incorporated for better assessment and identification of best and worst performing districts. It may be noted that Dindori district which existed in Shahdol Division during operation period was subsequently transferred to Jabalpur Division vide State government notification No. F-1-7/2011/7/Section - 6, dated 27 February, 2012 and therefore Dindori district is shown within Jabalpur division in this report.

This publication is comprised of six chapters and few important Annexures. The Chapters are segregated by Use of Census houses; Housing condition and material used; Drinking Water; Sanitation and Drainage; Source of lighting and Fuel used for cooking; Communication, Mode of transportation and Banking services. A CD containing Census Info package for Madhya Pradesh has also been designed and enclosed for data users to extract household amenities and assets data up to tahsil level.

The publication of this report would not have been possible without the support of Dr. C. Chandramouli, Registrar General and Census Commissioner of India. I am extremely thankful to him for his support and valuable guidance. I would like to place on record the contribution of UNICEF state unit in narration and designing of this report. I would also like to express my deep appreciation to all Officers of this Directorate who have put in great efforts in completing this report.

It is for the first time that a State Specific Analytical Report in this form on Houselisting data for Madhya Pradesh has been initiated with the objective of better use and understanding of vital information that is revealed by Houselisting phase of Census 2011. This report is also unique among all other states of the country. I hope this publication will prove very useful to all planners at State as well as district functionaries, NGOs, scholars and all the other esteemed users.
